MEMORANDUM FOR THE ASSISTANT TO THE PRESIDENT FOR NATIONAL SECURITY AFFAIRS

SUBJECT: Discussion with Allies on Soviet Noncompliance

To better support the President's mutual restraints policy, it is important that our allies and friends become better informed about Soviet noncompliance actions and the analyses that led to the President's findings in this regard.

To this end, Director Adelman believes it would be useful to undertake more detailed discussions with the appropriate intelligence, technical and policy officials, focussing initially on our European allies, with the aim of improving understanding and support for the U.S. positions. While we will wish to continue to take advantage of targets of opportunity, we should also develop our own targets as they arise.

ACDA is prepared to take the steps necessary to implement such a program of discussions in consultation with the other interested agencies.
